

AN ADVENTURE FOR YOUR TABLE

The Last Light Below

A cracked hillside exposes a stair into a buried observatory, just as its distress lamps begin signaling from below. The characters are hired to extract a trapped survey team before an unstable gravity lens brings down the lower galleries. The astronomer who restarted it believes one final observation can locate a missing expedition; the rescue leader wants everyone out immediately. Exploration, practical rescue, and a small number of sharp confrontations lead to a choice between destroying the lens, salvaging its record under pressure, or finding a safer way to shut it down. A vertical site map and visible rescue clock support play.

Inside the adventure

- A spoiler-filled introduction for the Dungeon Master
- Six developed encounters and multiple ways forward
- Keyed maps, complete opponent rules, and separate handouts
- Concrete rewards and endings shaped by player decisions

Four level 3 characters • 5E compatible

FAMILIAR • Original adventures by bandolek

The Last Light Below

A rescue expedition beneath a mountain observatory

bandolek